Lecture on Rome and Michael Angelo—Fine Display of Pictures—Candlemas —Hungarian Partridges—The Flower of the Town.

Regardless of the storm a large audience filled the library last night to listen to what proved to be a very interesting lecture by Prof. Wier of Yale on Rome and Michael Angelo. The first picture shown upon the screen was a view of the city of Rome, showing the two Beach residences. This elicited applause. A large view of the everlasting forum came next and Prof. Wier began by saying that there were several Rome. The great ruins resemble a skeleton. The forum was the center of human organism throughout the world. It was the same as the heart to the human body and sent its impulses of thought and energy to the remotest parts of the Roman empire. "And it came to pass that in those days there went out from Caesar Augustus a decree that all the world should be taxed." These ruins remind us of human greatness of the intellectual force which once animated men. There was still an older Rome than that of the Forum. As Macaulay said—"Wherever we walk we set our foot upon some ancient history." Dante thought every stone in Rome was sacred with historical incidents. And Virgil wrote of Rome as a pastoral place with shepherds and flocks. That was before the archaeologists. Every foot of ground has been fought over by the archaeologists. "Where is now the life of the forum?" asked Prof.
Wier. Nothing but a few foundation stones remains of the ancient capitol, but Gerome has reproduced the Senate chamber in his wonderful picture of the assassination of Caesar. This picture was shown on the screen, also the death of the gladiator in the coliseum by the same artist. The ancient Roman, said the lecturer, seems like the denizen of another planet. At this point a picture of a statue of Augustus was shown. Views of the Campagna were thrown upon the screen, and Prof. Wier said the sentiment of the landscape is to-day the same as when Julius Caesar looked upon it. Allusion was made to the 300 churches of Rome and the sounds of the vesper bells. Many views of St.
Peter's and the piazza in front of the church were shown and an account of the vastness of the building was given as well as of the great religious ceremonies which take place within the sacred edifice. All this led up to the work done by Michael Angelo, and the first of his sculpture exhibited was the Pieta executed when he was but 21 years of age. He never did apprentice work, said the lecturer. Views of Moses and David were thrown upon the screen, and then the audience was treated to a magnificent series of the terrors in the Sistine chapel, all of which were described, and the difficulties under which they were executed were related. It is a great thing, said the lecturer, to be so much impressed with solemn forms. To give an account of all the pictures shown would require a catalogue. Many felt after the lecture was over that they had seen as much or more than they could have seen if they made a visit to the Eternal City.

To-morrow morning at the Congregational church the theme for discourse will be "Limits of Prayer for the Sick." At the 4 o'clock service "Aids to Faith" will be the subject.
It is interesting to know that Mr.
McLaren Stevenson of this town is second cousin of Rev. John McLaren Richardson, the newly installed pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Bridgeport.

Hon. Stiles Judson of this town was one of the speakers at the McKinley dinner last night.
Something like a dozen Hungarian partridges have been received by settlemen in this town from Deputy Game Warden Wilbur F. Smith, of Norwalk.
The birds are to be set free on public shooting ground, for the purpose of breeding, and not for the benefit of pot hunters.

Miss Lucinda Wakelee has been visiting in Stratford, and Mrs. Elmer in Pittsfield, Mass.
The Okenuck Hayloft has once again installed its officers. Coffee, crullers and sandwiches followed. The great horn blower played Star Spangled Banner.

It was rather too bad to reprint at length the misdoings of a young man in town, when he is about to enlist for three years.
The prize winners at the Asalla whist were the Misses Lillie Dietz, Belle Wood, and Miss Brown, also Mes-sieurs Gilbert Edwards, Frand De Lorme and Mrs. Daniels.

It is now stated with some degree of assurance that the fire department will be reorganized.
Father O'Connor spent yesterday in New York, where he went to purchase candles and other things for an annual sale, which is next Tuesday. This is a church festival which commemorates the purification of the Virgin. It owns its name to the blessing and lighting of candles which are to be used during the year for ecclesiastical and domestic purposes. The word February denotes purification. Mass will be at 8 o'clock on Tuesday at St. James' and the candles will be distributed for the people to take home.

Mr. John Doyle has been on the sick list.
Mr. James Dawson, who had the misfortune to lose his barn and cattle at the last fire in town, and who has worked for the railroad company for the past 7 years, has been laid off.
Mrs. Fielding, an English lady upwards of 70 years of age, who lives on Hollister Heights, suffered a stroke of paralysis not long ago, but is now much better.

Mr. James Kenny who lives near Washington Bridge, is ill with a cancer.
It is announced that a new state road is to be surveyed from the center of this town to Shelton.
Early this week the Benevolent Union of the Methodist church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Curtis and adopted resolutions of sympathy and respect for the late Mrs. Elizabeth E. Peck, who was once president of the society.

Thursday evening Mrs. Charles Silliman had a bridge whist party.
A surprise party has recently been given to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. House, Main street.
The new Lawrence grocery store is getting to be a fashionable news center.

Miss Dora M. Rogerson has been entertaining friends.
A party consisting of Selectman Stacey, Wm. Morehouse and Roland Ax-tel went clamming a few days.
Tonight the Cupheag club will serve chowder.

Mrs. George S. Hawley has a sister visiting her from Chicago.
Jack Park is in Louisiana and likes it so well he goes in his shirt sleeves.
The weather is warm.

A few of those who attended the lecture last night at the library were Mr.
Arthur Wheeler, Miss Vivian Falken, Miss Harley J. Eard, Judge and Mrs.
Curtis, Rev. Dr. Packard, Dr. and Mrs.
Cogswell, Rev. Arthur Shirley, Mr. G.

FAIRFIELD

The Firemen's Ball—The Greenfield Hill Club Supper—Non-support Suit—Ground Hog Day—Mr. Buckingham.

The social note in town yesterday and Friday was accented by the math-ematic of neighbors and friends in supper and dance halls for an evening's entertainment. On Greenfield Hill the attraction was the Young Men's supper given by Mr. Brotherton. Five per and tender turkeys were roasted by Mrs. Randolph and the tables were spread with all kinds of vegetables, pastry, salads, and jellies. Forty or fifty men and women sat down to the feast, and after the music had been relieved of their contents, the music struck up by Fallon's orchestra, the dancing was the order of the rest of the evening in the great assembly hall.
This room was prettily decorated and brilliantly illuminated. A few of the ladies and gentlemen seen in the throng were Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Bradley, Mr. Nellis Sherwood, the Bradley family, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs.
Clarence Bradley, the Misses Irene and Florence Bradley, Miss Edna Bulkley, the Misses Mabel, Ethel and Kate Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Burr, Mr.
Edward Morehouse, Mr. William and Mr. Theodore Allen, John Boland, Mrs. Thomas, the Misses Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Heziah Elwood, Elwood Clayton Elwood, Thomas Sweeney and others.

Mr. Harris of Greenfield Hill, who has been visiting during the summer, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Whitaker, sailed on Thursday for England.

The frame of the new Peterson dwelling on Elm street has been raised.
Not far from 200 persons met in Perry's hall last Thursday evening to enjoy the firemen's ball to the strains of Butler's orchestra. This event is the annual one given by the Fairfield Hook and Ladder Company. The hall was well lighted and decorated for the occasion. Chief Seggell and his assistant, Hoy McGraw, were in full uniform, and took special pains to look after the pleasure and comfort of the guests. Mr. John Barr was in the office, Recording Secretary Ambrose Smith and James Sullivan took the tickets at the door. Frank Seg-gell, chairman of the committee took care of the floor, aided by several assistants. Altogether the force was polite and competent, and the ball passed off quietly and with much enjoyment. Those present included Chief Eggenell, Capt. Chief Henry Moore and wife, George Moore, treasurer, Mr. and Mrs. William Dallin, Messrs.
Robert Dallin, Edward Thomas, John Barr, Harry Nichols, Paul Smith, Patrick McGraw, Leonard Kowalski, John Dallin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barr, James Sullivan, Michael Neary, George Schulte, John Flanagan, Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, Dennis Mullins, Thomas Carroll, the Misses Sadie, Emma and Sue Seggell, Miss Sallie Collins, Miss Hazel Reid, Miss Mary Neary, and also quite a number of ladies and gentlemen from Black Rock and Bridgeport.

The new addition to the aluminum foundry, which is being constructed by G. Smith and son, is nearly completed.
John Cusack has resigned his position as assistant at the depot.
Mr. John Buckinham, who injured his knee two or three weeks ago, is still confined to his bed, his limb being in a plaster cast.

Mrs. Byron Bond, who lives in one of the Samm cottages, brought suit against her husband yesterday, for support. The case was tried before Justice Wakeman, and it was finally decided that Mr. Bond should give his wife $2 a week to be used for the support of her children. Mrs. Bond thought she could take care of herself.
Mr. Bond is said to be a painter.

Next Tuesday is known in some parts of the country as ground hog day, but not much attention is paid to the anticle of the little animal as a fore-teller of the weather. The ground hog is the common woodchuck, a clean and harmless animal. The legend is that it comes out of its burrow early in the spring, and if when it appears above ground it can see its own shadow, it retires for the next six weeks, which means that there will be a late spring.
